ANSWER OF KENT INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL DISTRICT

1. Six-year-old G.G. is diagnosed with multiple disabilities, including Autism Spectrum Disorder (“ASD”), severe cognitive impairment, oral phase dysphagia, idiopathic dysphagia, central nervous system complication, and pediatric feeding disorder.

ANSWER: Plaintiff G.G. has never been enrolled in a program operated by Defendant Kent Intermediate School District (“the ISD”) and therefore the ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

2. Since G.G. enrolled in KPS in the Fall of the 2022-2023 school year, both KPS and Kent ISD fundamentally underestimated and failed to meet G.G.’s needs as a learner. Despite his mother L.G.’s persistent, vocal concerns about the inadequacy of G.G.’s accommodations and services and her repeated requests that Defendants KPS and Kent ISD update his IEP to include relevant information about his disabilities and related educational needs from his medical team, Defendants KPS and Kent ISD failed to provide him with appropriate special education services. These failures resulted in numerous violations of G.G.’s civil rights, including violations of the IDEA, Section 504, Title II of the ADA, and PDCRA.

ANSWER: The ISD denies the allegations that G.G. was never enrolled at an ISD program and KPS never sought the ISD’s involvement in any evaluation or other assessment for G.G. during the 2022-23 school year. The ISD denies that L.G. made “repeated requests” to the ISD regarding G.G.’s IEP. The ISD denies that it “failed to provide” G.G. with appropriate services for the reason such allegations are untrue. The ISD denies that it violated any federal or state law.

3. In November 2023, having unsuccessfully tried to get KPS and Kent ISD to meet her son’s educational needs for over a year, L.G. filed a special education due process complaint against KPS, which was later amended to include Kent ISD. L.G.’s complaint alleged that KPS and Kent ISD had failed to provide G.G. with a free and appropriate public education (“FAPE”) as required under the IDEA.

ANSWER: The ISD admits that L.G. filed a due process complaint against it and that the ALJ properly dismissed her complaint. The ISD denies any effort by L.G. to ask it to provide any educational service to G.G.

4. Although both the IDEA and MDE clearly articulate that ISDs, like local school districts, are required to provide students with disabilities with a FAPE under the IDEA and are required to provide appropriate supervision to the local school districts to which they provide funding, the special education due process hearing officer improperly dismissed Kent ISD from the due process proceeding.

ANSWER: The ISD denies the allegations contained therein for the reasons set forth in the decision of the Administrative Law Judge resulting from the due process hearing pursued by L.G., which resulted in a Decision and Order dated February 7, 2024, which decisions and conclusions on which the ISD, in part, bases its denials and which decision L.G. expressly seeks to set aside herein.

5. During the course of the due process proceeding, L.G. learned that KPS and Kent ISD had engaged in unlawful predetermination regarding G.G.’s educational placement, meaning that they had made a placement decision for him without her participation and input, which violates the IDEA.

ANSWER: The ISD denies the allegations as untrue.

6. A due process hearing was held in March 2024 against KPS, after which the hearing officer issued a decision that failed to hold KPS accountable for the full range of its IDEA violations and failed to award G.G. with sufficient compensatory education hours to allow him to reclaim the education he had lost through KPS's failures.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

7. Thus, on behalf of G.G., L.G. now seeks a reversal of the ALJ's orders; sufficient compensatory education services to allow G.G. to reclaim the FAPE he was denied by KPS, Kent ISD, and MDE due to its failure to properly train and supervise its due process hearing officers; and other remedies.

ANSWER: The ISD denies the allegation to the extent it asserts that the ALJ's Feb. 7, 2024 decision was incorrect and denies that it denied G.G. a FAPE.

8. L.G. also seeks remedies for Defendants' discrimination against G.G. as a person with a disability.

ANSWER: The ISD denies that it discriminated against G.G. under any state or federal law.

PARTIES

ANSWER: Admitted.

10. G.G. has qualifying disabilities under the IDEA and is therefore entitled to receive special education and related services under the IDEA. ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

14. Defendant MDE is the State Education Agency (“SEA”) for the State of Michigan and is responsible for ensuring that the requirements of the IDEA are carried out. 34 C.F.R. §

15. MDE receives IDEA funding by submitting to the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education "assurances ... that the State has in effect policies and procedures to ensure that ... [a] free and appropriate public education is available to all children with disabilities residing in the State." 20 U.S.C. § 1412.

ANSWER: The ISD states that no answer is required because the allegations do not refer to the ISD.

16. MDE also receives federal assistance and qualifies as a program under Section 504, 29 U.S.C. § 794, and as an SEA, is a public entity subject to Title II of the ADA. 42 U.S.C. § 12131.

ANSWER: The ISD states that no answer is required because the allegations do not refer to the ISD.

LEGAL FRAMEWORK

The Individuals with Disabilities in Education Act (“IDEA”)

25. The IDEA requires that qualifying students with disabilities receive a FAPE. 20 U.S.C. § 1412(a)(1)(A); 34 C.F.R. § 300.101(a).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

26. To achieve this goal, the IDEA requires that LEAs design and develop an individualized education program (“IEP”) for each qualifying child with a disability. 20 U.S.C. §§ 1412(a)(4), 1414(d); 34 C.F.R. §§ 300.112, 300.320-24.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court. In further answer, the ISD denies that it is an LEA in the context of this case because it was not asked by Plaintiff L.G. or KPS to provide any special education services to G.G.

27. According to the IDEA and its implementing regulations, LEAs include:

[A] public board of education or other public authority legally constituted within a State for either administrative control or direction of, or to perform a service function for, public elementary schools or secondary schools in a city, county, township, school district, or other political subdivision of a State, or for such combination of school districts or counties as are recognized in a State as an administrative agency for its public elementary schools or secondary schools.

20 U.S.C. § 1401(19)(A); 34 C.F.R. § 303.23(a).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

28. Under the IDEA, each state must “ensure” that it provides “special education” and “related services” to all children with disabilities within a specified age range residing in the state. 20 U.S.C. §§ 1401(9), 1412(a)(1). “Special education” means specifically designed instruction that meets the unique needs of a child with a disability. See 20 U.S.C. § 1401(29). “Related services” mean the supportive services “required to assist a child with a disability to benefit from special education.” 20 U.S.C. § 1401(26).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

29. LEAs must ensure that “a reevaluation of each child with a disability is conducted . . . if the local educational agency determines that the educational or related service needs, including improved academic achievement and functional performance, of the child warrant a reevaluation.” 20 U.S.C. § 1414(a)(2)(A)(i); 34 C.F.R. § 300.303(a)(1).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

30. In conducting an evaluation, the IDEA and its implementing regulations require LEAs to “use a variety of assessment tools and strategies to gather relevant functional, developmental, and academic information, including information provided by the parent, that may assist in determining . . . the content of a child’s [IEP], including information related to enabling the child to be involved in and progress in the general education curriculum.” 20 U.S.C. § 1412(b)(2)(A)(ii); 34 C.F.R. § 300.303(b)(2).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

31. States and LEAs must provide special education and related services to each eligible student with a disability by implementing an IEP, an individually tailored statement that is developed, reviewed, and revised by an IEP “team.” See 20 U.S.C. § 1414(d).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

32. States and LEAs also must “ensure that the IEP Team . . . revises the IEP as appropriate to address any lack of expected progress toward the annual goals and in the general education curriculum . . . ; the results of any reevaluation conducted . . . ; the child’s anticipated needs; or other matters.” 20 U.S.C. § 1414(d)(4)(A)(ii); 34 C.F.R. § 300.324(b)(1)(ii).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court. The ISD further denies the allegation for the reason that it had no responsibility regarding G.G.’s IEP team decisions.

33. States must “have in effect policies and procedures to ensure that public agencies in the State meet the LRE [least restrictive environment] requirements” of the IDEA. 34 C.F.R. § 300.114(a)(1).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

34. To achieve the goal of providing a FAPE to all children with qualifying disabilities, states and LEAs must design and develop an IEP for each qualifying child. 20 U.S.C. §§ 1412(a)(4), 1414(d); 34 C.F.R. §§ 300.112, 300.320-24.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

35. In Endrew F. v. Douglas County School District Re-1, 137 S. Ct. 988, 999 (2017), the Supreme Court of the United States defined FAPE as an offer of education, “reasonably calculated to enable a child to make progress appropriate in light of the child’s circumstances.” Id. at 999. The Court further clarified that, in designing an IEP, “every child should have the chance to meet challenging objectives,” and the IEP Team must give, “careful consideration to the child’s present levels of achievement, disability, and potential for growth.” Id. at 1000.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

36. FAPE, as defined under 20 U.S.C. § 1401(9), requires special education and related services to be “provided in conformity with” a student’s IEP.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

37. While the IDEA guarantees individually tailored educational services, the ADA and Section 504 mandate non-discriminatory access to federally funded programs. See Fry v. Napoleon Community Schools, 137 S. Ct. 743, 756 (2017).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

38. Public schools that receive federal funds must comply with all three statutes, and the same underlying conduct—including denial of a FAPE—can violate the IDEA, the ADA, and Section 504 all at once. Id. at 755-56.

Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (“ADA”)

39. Title II of the ADA provides that “no qualified individual with a disability shall, by reason of such disability, be excluded from participation in or be denied the benefits of the services, programs, or activities of a public entity, or be subjected to discrimination by any such entity.” 42 U.S.C. § 12132.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

40. Further, under Title II of the ADA, covered entities must make “reasonable modifications in policies, practices, or procedures when the modifications are necessary to avoid discrimination on the basis of disability . . . ” 28 C.F.R. § 35.130(b)(7).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (“Section 504”)

41. Similarly, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and its implementing regulations provide that no one may be excluded from a program receiving federal funds “solely by reason” of her disability. 29 U.S.C. § 794(a); see also 34 C.F.R. § 104.4(a).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

42. Under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, a school district must provide a FAPE, meaning “the provision of regular or special education and related aids and services that are designed to meet individual educational needs of [a child with a disability] as adequately as the needs of [non-disabled students] are met and...are based upon adherence to procedures that satisfy the requirements of [34 C.F.R. §§] 104.34, 104.35, and 104.36.” 34 C.F.R. § 104.33(a)-(b).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

Michigan's Persons with Disabilities Civil Rights Act ("PDCRA")

43. PDCRA prohibits educational institutions and public services from “[d]iscriminat[ing] in any manner in the full utilization of or benefit from the institution, or the services provided and rendered by the institution to an individual because of a disability ...” M.C.L. 37.1402(a).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

44. PDCRA also guarantees full and equal use of public accommodations, public services, and educational facilities free from discrimination because of a disability. M.C.L. 37.1102.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

45. G.G. is six years old.

ANSWER: The ISD admits that it “is an intermediate school district” but denies that in the context of this case that it is a “LEA”. The ISD admits that it serves the public school districts that are the LEAs in this context and their respective students and educators in certain, specified ways pursuant to the Cooperative Agreement amongst the ISD and its constituent LEAs.

leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

KPS did not even include Plaintiff's concerns in the "Parent/Guardian Concerns" section of the IEP, which simply reads: "Mom is concerned about that [sic] he will be in the back of the room and left behind. He is concerned about other children not being nice to him. He does not have a lot fear [sic]."

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

69. The IEP does not even address these concerns.

70. The September 2022 IEP also inappropriately changed G.G.'s speech generating device from the Language Acquisition through Motor Planning ("LAMP") device he was comfortable with to another augmentative and alternative communication ("AAC") device with which he had no familiarity or working experience, which negatively impacted his ability to communicate, access the curriculum, and interact with his teachers and peers.

in his classroom.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

110. The Eligibility Recommendation included a Developmental Profile ("DP-4") completed by Jobin, which reflected an overall drastic delay in G.G.'s development, placing his development in the second percentile.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

111. The Eligibility Recommendation also included a teacher report form completed by Jobin.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

112. Certain scores in Jobin's teacher report were not accurate.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

113. For example, while Jobin rated G.G. in the "average" range of the "emotionally reactive" and "anxious/depressed" categories, certain of his behaviors, including his near constant "stimming," were both emotional reactions and behaviors which were rooted in and stemmed from his anxiety.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

114. The Eligibility Recommendation also included inaccurate Behavioral Assessment for Children ("BASC-3") Teacher Rating Scale results.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

116. Jobin did not find G.G. to be in the "clinical" range with respect to his social skills, even though he displayed very limited social skills and did not interact with his peers without maximal prompting.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

118. The Eligibility Recommendation included a section titled “Relevant Behavior Observations,” which included inaccuracies and contradictory information.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

119. For example, while the social work description noted that G.G. wandered, elsewhere it was indicated that he was not a risk for elopement. These contradictions made no sense, because G.G. had always required staff support for transitions at school.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

120. The occupational therapy (“OT”) section noted that G.G. was being provided training in skills he had already mastered, indicating that KPS was not providing him with services that met his actual needs or that were individualized and tailored to his strengths and weaknesses.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

121. The Eligibility Recommendation included a section titled “Evaluation observations by staff.”

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

122. Some of these observations did not align with G.G.’s actual level of understanding and communication.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

123. For example, while the observations stated that he expressed desires, he had not actually demonstrated that he knew how to share his wants and needs verbally.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

124. This section also included observations of G.G. supposedly engaging in certain self- stimulatory behaviors that had never been documented in any of his other many evaluations and reports.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

128. This section also noted Plaintiff's ongoing concerns about G.G.'s behavior due to KPS's failure provide appropriate supports for his ASD diagnosis and symptoms.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

129. The Eligibility Recommendation found G.G. eligible for ongoing special education programs and services.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

130. On May 22, 2023, KPS held an IEP meeting for G.G. to plan for the 2023-2024 school year, which Plaintiff attended.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

134. The final May 2023 IEP did not address these concerns.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

136. The final May 2023 IEP did not address these concerns.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

137. With respect to perception/motor/mobility, KPS's occupational therapist, Michael Zurgable, noted that ABA therapy would likely be helpful for G.G.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

138. The final May 2023 IEP did not provide G.G. with ABA therapy services.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

139. Plaintiff shared that G.G. continued to struggle with eating and self-feeding and discussed the results of a speech language pathology evaluation that had been conducted on G.G. in February 2023, finding that he had significant challenges with feeding and eating.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

140. The final May 2023 IEP did not address this concern.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

141. Plaintiff noted that G.G. had been performing many of the activities included as goals in his prior IEPs since 2021, but the draft IEP did not include any expanded or more challenging goals for him.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

142. Call explained that G.G. had achieved many of the Goals and Objectives in Receptive Language and Expressive Language already, and that the goals were not appropriate and/or appropriately challenging for him.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

143. Plaintiff expressed concern that the Perception/Motor/Mobility goals were not appropriately challenging for G.G. and were repetitive of previous IEPs.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

144. The final May 2023 IEP did not address these concerns.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore,

leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

145. Plaintiff challenged the Socio-Emotional/Behavioral Transition goal as not realistic and not reasonably calculated to meet G.G.'s needs. Plaintiff explained that G.G. needs full adult support for the whole portion of a transition or else he does not make the transition, and often will elope or attempt to elope during a transition or otherwise in the community. Plaintiff also explained that G.G. does not exhibit awareness of danger, which is particularly problematic if a transition would not be with full adult supervision and assistance, as he could elope and get hurt very quickly. Plaintiff reiterated the opinions of G.G.'s doctors that this was one of many areas in which G.G. needed one-on-one attention and instruction.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

146. The final May 2023 IEP did not address these concerns.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

147. Plaintiff expressed concern that the Speech and Language, Occupational Therapy, and School Social Worker hours provided in the IEP were insufficient to meet G.G.'s needs. Plaintiff requested that Speech and Language services be no less than three to five times a week because of huge deficits in this area and the fact that doctors evaluating G.G. had indicated he needed one-on-one services in this area.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

148. The final May 2023 IEP did not address these concerns.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore,

leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

149. Both Plaintiff and Call raised concerns about G.G.'s behaviors at home and in the community, including reacting in a negative or unsafe way when challenged by tasks or work.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

150. The final May 2023 IEP did not address these concerns.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

151. The IEP indicated that, for the 2023-2024 school year, G.G. be placed in what KPS referred to as "the elementary autism classroom housed at Southeast Kelloggsville."

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

152. The elementary autism classroom housed at Southeast Kelloggsville did not yet exist.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

153. KPS staff described the Southeast Kelloggsville classroom to Plaintiff as follows: "It's going to be an ASD classroom. There will be an instructional support person within that classroom. And the students in that classroom will be identified as having ASD."

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

154. KPS staff characterized the South Kelloggsville classroom as "testing the waters.”

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

155. KPS said there was no website or print material available about the South Kelloggsville classroom. KPS staff told Plaintiff they had no information about the classroom other than what had been presented orally at the IEP meeting.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

156. Based on this description and the lack of information, it was clear that the Southeast Kelloggsville classroom would not meet G.G.’s needs nor provide him with a FAPE because it could not address his severe cognitive impairment or his multiple disabilities.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

157. Plaintiff asked that G.G. be placed at one of the Special Education Center Programs overseen by Kent ISD, Pine Grove Learning Center (“Pine Grove”). Pine Grove “serves students with special needs who have moderate to severe cognitive impairments, are severely multiply impaired, or have autism from Kindergarten through age 26” and “serves students from the south western side of Kent County.”

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief with respect to the first sentence and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs. The ISD neither admits nor denies the second sentence as its website and description speak for themselves.

158. Pine Grove “educate[s] students with complex needs by providing specialized instruction specific to the communication, academic, adaptive behavior, mobility, and adult living skills required to develop independence.”

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegation as its website and description speak for themselves.

159. Unlike the South Kelloggsville classroom, based on Pine Grove’s description, it would not only be able to meet G.G.’s needs as a student with ASD, but it would also be able to meet his needs as a student with a severe cognitive impairment and multiple disabilities.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief for the reason that the ISD was never invited by the Plaintiff L.G. or the LEA, KPS, to any IEP or other meeting to discuss possible placement of G.G. and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

160. After Plaintiff raised Pine Grove as an option, KPS staff began an inquisition regarding details of the exact name and specification of the program at Pine Grove she was seeking as a placement for G.G. KPS staff interrupted and talked over Plaintiff as she attempted to respond to their questions, making it impossible for her to participate in the IEP team meeting as an equal member.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

161. At the end of the meeting, Plaintiff reiterated her concerns about the draft IEP, including her concerns about the Southwest Kelloggsville classroom and G.G.’s need for one-on- one support throughout the school day.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

162. Plaintiff was gravely concerned with adequacy and appropriateness of the Southwest Kelloggsville classroom for G.G. and the potential negative impact on G.G. of KPS's failure to properly accommodate his educational, social/emotional, medical, and communication needs; his tendency to elope; and his lack of safety awareness.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

163. For these reasons, Plaintiff made alternative educational arrangements for G.G. for the 2023-2024 school year at Thrive Learning Center in Kentwood, Michigan.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

164. Plaintiff ensured that G.G. continued to receive ABA services both in the classroom at Thrive Learning Center and in the home and community.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

165. Plaintiff also arranged for G.G. to receive speech therapy, feeding therapy, and augmented AAC device evaluation, training, and lessons at Mary Free Bed Hospital in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

166. Due to the IDEA violations outlined previously in this Complaint, Plaintiff filed a Due Process Complaint ("DPC") and Request for Due Process Hearing against KPS on November 30, 2023.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

167. On December 11, 2023, KPS filed a Response to the DPC.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

168. KPS's Response acknowledged that "P[laintiff] expressed her preference for placement at Pine Grove Learning Center." KPS wrote: "The District is a constituent member of Kent ISD, which means its students can access the ISD's programs if both the District and the ISD determine the placement is appropriate."

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

169. On January 11, 2024, Plaintiff filed a First Amended DPC and Request for Due Process Hearing against KPS and Kent ISD on January 11, 2024.

ANSWER: The ISD admits that the Plaintiff L.G. filed an amended due process complaint and that the ALJ bifurcated the amended complaint to create a second complaint against the ISD (See ECF No. 15-2, PageID.450).

170. On January 22, 2024, Kent ISD filed a Motion to Dismiss Plaintiff's DPC.

ANSWER: Admitted.

171. Kent ISD's Motion to Dismiss argued that it was not responsible for the identification, placement, or provision of FAPE to G.G. because it was not a LEA.

ANSWER: Admitted that the allegation is one of the reasons stated in the ISD's motion.

172. Kent ISD wrote:

As a matter of law, Kent ISD is not now nor has it ever been responsible for the identification, evaluation, educational placement, or provision of a free and appropriate public education ("FAPE") to the Student. That responsibility belongs solely to a student's district of residence or, as appropriate, the operating district. Kent ISD is not the student's district of residence nor has it operated any program that the Student is presently attending or has ever attended.

ANSWER: Admitted.

173. As will be detailed later in this Complaint, not only is this a wholly false assertion about Kent ISD's responsibilities to G.G. under the IDEA, Kent ISD very likely knew it was false at the time it filed the Motion.

ANSWER: The ISD denies the allegation for the reason that it is untrue.

174. In support of its Motion, Kent ISD attached five opinions issued by Michigan Office of Administrative Hearings and Rules ("MOAHR") ALJs serving as special education due process hearing officers, all of which wrongly conclude that ISDs are not LEAs and therefore are not responsible for providing FAPE to students on IEPs.

ANSWER: Admitted that the ISD attached persuasive decisions to its motion, but denied as to Plaintiffs' conclusions about the holdings of those cases as the cases speak for themselves and the final decision thereon is to be determined by the Court.

175. In Plaintiff's response to Kent ISD's Motion to Dismiss, she argued that Kent ISD was a proper party to the action for the following reasons:

- a. Kent ISD was responsible for the provision of FAPE for G.G;
- b. Kent ISD owned and operated Pine Grove and other special education programs for students within its jurisdiction;
- c. Kent ISD had entered into a written contract with its member school districts, including KPS, for the delivery of special education programs and services for students attending its member school districts;
- d. Pursuant to C.F.R. §§ 300.327 and 300.501(c), each public agency, including Kent ISD and KPS, must ensure that the parent, like Plaintiff, of each child with a disability, like G.G., is a member “of any group that makes decisions on the educational placement of their child;” and

- e. In violation of that obligation, Kent ISD and KPS predetermined that G.G. was not eligible for placement at Pine Grove, excluding Plaintiff from the decision-making process regarding G.G.’s placement for the 2023-2024 school year, which constituted a violation of G.G.’s right to a FAPE under the IDEA.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

176. On February 7, 2024, the Hearing Officer issued an order dismissing Kent ISD based solely on the incorrect legal arguments and wrongly decided prior caselaw cited by Kent ISD in its motion (“the February 7, 2024 order”).

ANSWER: Admitted that the ALJ properly dismissed the Plaintiffs’ complaint against the ISD and denies that the ALJ’s decision was incorrect in any way.

177. The February 7, 2024 order held that ISDs are not primarily responsible for the provision of a FAPE, incorrectly holding that “it is generally the responsibility of a local school district or the Local Educational Agency (LEA) to provide a FAPE to individual students within the local school district” and also incorrectly finding that “there is not a remedy for a parent or student in a due process hearing against a Respondent ISD.”

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

178. The February 7, 2024 order also erroneously summarized Bay City Education Association v. Bay City Public Schools, 430 Mich. 370, 378-79; 422 N.W.2d 504 (1988), without quoting the case, wrongly asserting that the Bay City court held that ISDs “may become responsible for providing a FAPE only if the local school district contracts with the ISD for the delivery of special education programs and services.”

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

179. In fact, Bay City holds:

In spite of whether the ISD or the local district provides the program or service, however, neither party may completely terminate its statutory obligation to these special education students. The Legislature crafted a statutory scheme that contemplates cooperative decision making and shared responsibility for providing programs and services designed to develop the maximum potential and address the special needs of each handicapped child in this state.

430 Mich. 370, 378-79; 422 N.W.2d 504 (1988).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

180. The February 7, 2024 order also cited M.C.L. 380.1751 and 380.1711 and a January 11, 1991 Michigan Attorney General Opinion in support of its dismissal of Kent ISD as a respondent.

ANSWER: Admitted.

181. The statutes and the Attorney General opinion address ISD’s obligations to provide special education programs and services to students, not the opposite.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

182. M.C.L. 380.1751(1) requires that Michigan school districts “provide special education programs and services designed to meet the individual needs of each student with a disability in its district...for whom an appropriate educational or training program can be provided in accordance with the intermediate school district special education plan.”

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

183. Under M.C.L. 380.1711, ISDs are responsible for developing, establishing, and continually evaluating and modifying a plan for the delivery of special education services for all students under the age of 26 who are residents of constituent districts and of the special education programs and services in which each student participates.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

184. M.C.L. 380.1711 does not limit an ISD’s obligation only to those students that are currently enrolled in one of the ISD programs or classrooms, and instead places the responsibility on the ISD for all students for which it is required to maintain records as defined above.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

185. The cited Michigan Attorney General opinion directs ISDs to provide educational services to homebound and hospitalized students.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

186. The February 7, 2024 order dismissing Kent ISD failed to address Plaintiff's arguments, directly citing only to Kent ISD's authority, including the five wrongly decided opinions dismissing ISDs from due process matters cited previously.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

187. Five wrongs do not make a right, and the fact that Michigan's due process hearing officers have been wrongly relieving ISDs of their responsibility to provide students within their districts of jurisdiction with FAPE since at least 2019 is evidence of MDE's years-long failure to properly train them.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

188. In March 2024, a due process hearing was held between parties Plaintiff and KPS.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

189. As previously discussed, KPS's Response to the DPC explicitly stated that "its students can access [Kent] ISD's programs if both the District and [Kent] ISD determine the placement is appropriate."

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

190. At the due process hearing, Fountaine admitted to communicating with Pine Grove's principal, a Kent ISD employee, regarding Pine Grove as a potential placement for G.G.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs. In further answer, the ISD denies that any contact by Fountaine included specific, individualized information about Plaintiff G.G.

191. Fountaine admitted to engaging in those communications without involving Plaintiff or giving her any notice of or opportunity to participate in the communications.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

192. Fountaine admitted that the reason she thought Pine Grove was not a good placement for G.G. was her personal belief that G.G. would not be able to protect himself in the event of an outburst by another Pine Grove student.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

193. Fountaine's rationale had nothing to do with considering the LRE for G.G.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

194. The communications between Fountaine and Pine Grove's principal occurred outside the scope of an IEP meeting.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

195. Neither the Pine Grove principal nor any other Kent ISD representative attended any of G.G.'s IEP meetings.

ANSWER: Admitted that KPS did not, per the Cooperative Agreement, invite the ISD or its representatives to a needs review meeting and therefore the ISD had no information and took no part in the KPS decision regarding placement.

196. The Kent ISD Cooperative Agreement, which was discussed at length at the due process hearing, and of which KPS was a member and a party, specifically indicated that LRE decisions must be made in an IEP team meeting, as required by the IDEA.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

197. Instead, KPS and/or Kent ISD unilaterally made the determination that G.G. did not qualify for placement at Pine Grove without input from Plaintiff and outside of an IEP team meeting.

ANSWER: The ISD denies the allegation for the reason that it did not “unilaterally” make any decision about Plaintiff G.G.’s placement as it was not invited to a needs review meeting by KPS and therefore has no responsibility for KPS’s placement decision.

198. No documentation of the decision was ever provided to Plaintiff.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

199. 34 C.F.R. § 300.227 requires that a parent must be a “member of any group that makes decisions on the educational placement of their child.”

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

200. Courts have repeatedly found predetermination by educational agencies to be a violation of the IDEA. See, e.g., Deal v. Hamilton County Bd. of Educ., 392 F.3d 840, 857 (6th Cir. 2004):

The evidence reveals that the School System, and its representatives, had pre-decided not to offer Zachary intensive ABA services regardless of any evidence concerning Zachary's individual needs and the effectiveness of his private program. This predetermination amounted to a procedural violation of the IDEA. Because it effectively deprived Zachary's parents of meaningful participation in the IEP process, the predetermination caused substantive harm and therefore deprived Zachary of a FAPE.

See also Spielberg by Spielberg v. Henrico Cty. Pub. Sch., 853 F.2d 256, 258-9 (4th Cir. 1988):

Congress, through the EHA,¹⁶ uses federal money to induce the states to provide handicapped students with a free appropriate public education (“FAPE”)....

The district court found that the defendants decided to change Jonathan's placement from Melmark to Randolph before developing a new IEP to support the change. Under the EHA, the general rule is that placement should be based on the IEP. 34 C.F.R. Sec. 300.552. The appendix interpreting the EHA regulations states that "IEP objectives must be written before placement." 34 C.F.R. Part 300, App. C., Question 42. The decision to place Jonathan at Randolph before developing an IEP on which to base that placement violates this regulation as interpreted by the Secretary of Education. It also violates the spirit and intent of the EHA, which emphasizes parental involvement. After the fact involvement is not enough....

The defendants violated EHA procedures when they resolved to educate Jonathan Spielberg at Randolph, and then developed an IEP to carry out their decision. This failure to follow EHA procedures is sufficient to hold that the defendants failed to provide Jonathan with a FAPE.

(Internal citations omitted).

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

201. KPS and Kent ISD's decision to eliminate Pine Grove as a placement option for G.G. outside of an IEP meeting and without Plaintiff's involvement constituted unlawful predetermination and denied G.G. a FAPE.

ANSWER: The ISD denies the allegation for the reason that it was not invited to a needs review meeting by KPS and therefore has no responsibility for KPS's placement decision and did not engage in unlawful predetermination. In further answer, the ISD denies that it made any “decision to eliminate” its program as a placement option for the reason that it lacked knowledge or information that Plaintiff L.G. asked KPS to consider Pine Grove.

202. On May 15, 2024, the Hearing Officer issued a final decision and order (“the May 15, 2024 order”) finding that KPS committed procedural violations against Plaintiff and G.G. during the 2022-2023 school year, but that it only committed one substantive violation of the IDEA resulting in failure to provide FAPE to G.G.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

203. Specifically, the May 15, 2024 order found that KPS had violated the IDEA and failed to complete G.G.’s IEP correctly as it related to his need for assistive technology for communication, and that KPS failed to provide G.G. with assistive technology from September 2022 through February 2023.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

204. To make G.G. whole, the May 15, 2024 order granted him a paltry 15 hours of compensatory education speech therapy services in the use of a speech generating device.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

205. This was nowhere near sufficient to make up for the educational loss G.G. suffered over the course of seven months of trying to learn without necessary communication technology.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

206. The May 15, 2024 order also found that KPS had committed procedural violations throughout the 2022- 2023 school year, but it did not find those violations to have resulted in a substantive violation or denial of FAPE to G.G.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

207. The May 15, 2024 order also required KPS to address Plaintiff's concerns about G.G.'s feeding and elopement issues, largely resolving the alleged issues from the 2022-2023 school year.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

208. The May 15, 2024 order found that KPS had not violated the IDEA during the 2023- 2024 school year, and found that KPS's determination that G.G. did not qualify for services at Pine Grove was not an IDEA placement decision because Kent ISD's contract prerequisites for an LRE placement in its Cooperative Agreement with KPS were not initiated.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

209. This finding violated the law, because the IDEA explicitly provides that IEP team decisions, including placements, must be made by a group of persons, including the parents, and other persons knowledgeable about the child, the meaning of the evaluation data, and the placement options. 34 C.F.R. § 300.116.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

210. The IDEA defines the IEP team, and the first person(s) on the list of team members are “the parents of the child,” followed by regular education teacher, special education teacher, representative of the public agency, and others. 34 C.F.R. § 300.321.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

211. Neither the IDEA nor any State or Federal case law known to Plaintiff allows for placement decisions to be made by administrators alone or for limited placement options to be presented to parents at an IEP team meeting.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

212. Neither the IDEA nor any State or Federal case law known to Plaintiff allows for the terms of a cooperative agreement between an ISD and a local school district to supersede the requirements of the IDEA.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

213. On July 15, 2024, Rebecca McIntyre, Assistant Director of the MDE Office of Special Education (“OSE”), sat for a deposition in the matter of Lewis et al. v. Mich. Dep’t of Educ., No. 1:22-cv-838 (W.D. Mich. 2022).

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

214. During her deposition, McIntyre testified that, for the last seven years, MDE has provided training and guidance to ISDs that ISDs are primarily responsible, as LEAs and the subrecipients of the IDEA grant funds, for ensuring the delivery of FAPE to special education students:

Q: ... So from what I understand based on the flow-through money, the SEA takes money, sends it to the ISDs. The ISDs are viewed as the LEA at that point in time?

A: Yes.

Q: Under IDEA, the LEA is responsible for providing a FAPE, correct?

A: For – yes, for ensuring that FAPE is provided.

Q: Okay. Does MDE OSE have any opinion about the ISDs claiming that they have no responsibility to provide or ensure FAPE at the due process level?

A: We are working on that. Q: Tell us more about that.

A: That – that has been communicated for the last seven years.

Q: Okay. Is there anything that MDE OSE is doing to try to rectify that situation so that students receive FAPE?

A: We have been – well, our new Deputy Superintendent Michelle Harmala has actually gotten in front of a number of audiences that we have not been able to get in front of before.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court. In further answer, the ISD denies that an employee's deposition testimony is binding on the ISD or the Court in this matter.

215. This requirement is independent of the ISD or the local school district's obligation to provide FAPE as the educational agency responsible for a specific program in which a student is enrolled. Instead, McIntyre testified that the IDEA grant fund documentation that ISDs must complete each year requires that the ISD recognize their obligation to ensure the provision of FAPE to students in their jurisdiction:

Q: Are there any other avenues that MDE pursuing to ensure that LEAs are taking responsibility for ensuring a FAPE?

A: We...met with five ISDs...and actually gave them...what they have to fill out annually through the State for the IDEA grant dollars; and showed them that when they fill out that application, the very first thing that they are agreeing to is ensuring FAPE for students...with IEPs in their jurisdiction.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court. In further answer, the ISD denies that an employee's deposition testimony is binding on the ISD or the Court in this matter.

216. McIntyre testified that MDE sanctions ISDs, not local school districts, when local school districts within their jurisdiction do not properly provide FAPE to students with IEPs:

Q: And this says it's the OS[E] Continuum of Improvement, Correction, Incentives, and Sanctions. Is that correct?

A: Yes.

Q: And this document discusses sanctions towards ISDs; is that correct?

A: Yes, among other things.

Q: And, again, this is not directed at districts themselves?

A: Mmm-hmm.

Q: Why not?

A: Because the intermediate school districts have jurisdiction over their member districts.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court. In further answer, the ISD denies that an employee's deposition testimony is binding on the ISD or the Court in this matter.

217. McIntyre also testified that Michigan ISDs have historically resisted exercising their required supervisory control over local districts:

Q: Okay. Why do you think they resisted enforcing with their local districts?

A: I think in their opinion, they were the – they had to – they were the protectors, the service providers and the protectors of their member districts.

Q: Who were they protecting the member districts from?

A: Is that a rhetorical question?

Q: A real question. Who did they think --

A: We ask the same questions. So they're protecting them from us and from -- from parents.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court. In further answer, the ISD denies that an employee's deposition testimony is binding on the ISD or the Court in this matter.

218. McIntyre also testified that MDE had no consistent process in place to review the content of due process hearing officer decisions or that the decisions were compliant with or demonstrated an understanding of special education law:

Q: What is SEAC?

A: Special Education Advisory Committee. It's a state-level committee.

Q: This is a SEAC New Member Orientation from September 10 of 2020, slide deck, and page 37 talks about administrative law judges.

Do you recall if you would have presented this information at SEAC?

A: Yes.

Q: Okay. And it says that there's certain requirements for ALJs, and one of them is that they possess knowledge of an ability to understand the provisions of IDEA, federal and state regs pertain to IDEA, legal interpretations of IDEA by federal and state courts, conduct hearings in accordance with appropriate standard legal practice, and render and write decisions. Correct?

A: Correct.

Q: Okay. How does MDE know that the ALJs possess the knowledge and ability to do those things?

A: We provide them training annually, and that's part of looking at the final decisions, sharing final decisions with SEAC, and getting input.

Q: Okay. What training do you provide to ALJs annually?

A: We would have to look back at the record. Each year it's different. They used to go to Lehigh, go to LRP. Last year they received a two-day training from Pingora. They just received a two-day training again from Pingora, as well as they've attended CASE -- I think it was CASE and CADDRA.

A: So we're trying to provide them as much -- the Pingora trainings are Michigan specific, because we have told them, you know, that Lehigh, LRP, CADDRA, those are all from a national perspective and topic specific, where we need process specific.

Q: Okay. So you provide the trainings for the ALJs. Is there any assessment done to determine what they've learned through those trainings?

A: Assessment, I think, plus watching the data.

Q: Okay. How does watching the data determine whether or not they've learned?

A: Because there's topic-specific information that they are learning, and then we watch the data to see that there's progress.

Q: Okay. What does it actually mean to watch the data?

A: Pull it, look at it, analyze it.

Q: Are you looking -- like what data are you looking at specifically? What are you pulling?

A: Hearing data.

Q: Okay. And what specific pieces of hearing data are you looking at?

A: File date, who's filing, who the attorneys are on both sides, any motions that are made, when they're made, looking at that information.

Q: And who looks at that information to determine if ALJs are demonstrating that they understand Michigan law and federal law?

A: I was looking. I still look.... [W]e have a due process...administrative support [employee] in our office, and...she keeps a spreadsheet and updates us on all of the hearings, and we look at issues....

Q: Do you look at substantive issues as well as the time lines?

A: And when you say -- we look at the issue as a -- as like the topics we're following. We're not looking in at all the details of a hearing and looking to see if they got that information right.

Q: I guess I'm trying to understand how looking at that data actually tells you whether the ALJs are knowledgeable in the area and have the expertise if you're not diving into every -- like the entire decision or what happened at the hearing?

A: No, we don't dive into the entire decision.

Q: How does MDE actually ensure that the ALJs possess the knowledge and ability to understand the legal interpretations of IDEA and MARSE?

...

A: Just reviewing data. I guess there's no -- there is no review and check, check, check.

Q: To demonstrate that they understand IDEA and MARSE?

A: Correct.

Q: Okay. So I hear that you're reviewing data, but you're not looking at the decisions specifically. So how is MDE ensuring that the ALJs are actually -- that they actually have the ability to understand the legal interpretations of IDEA and MARSE?

...

A: So I gave you what I know. We look at the data. We're following that. We're not looking at the substantive nature of the decisions.

Q: Okay. Who would know how MDE is ensuring that the ALJs possess the knowledge of and ability to understand legal interpretations of IDEA and MARSE?

A: I don't know.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court. In further answer, the ISD denies that an employee's deposition testimony is binding on the ISD or the Court in this matter.

219. McIntyre testified that SEAC reviews special education due process hearing decisions:

Q: Do you get input from SEAC based on those due process hearing decisions?

A: They review the decisions that are fully redacted, and then they provide input into what -- what gaps in understanding there may be, and they help us identify if there is guidance that's needed, if -- because there are, what, 80-some different people in there bringing different perspectives as do we need to understand things differently, be able to present the information and requirements differently. So this is one of the essential functions of SEAC.³¹

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

220. However, the SEAC membership list, while lengthy, does not appear to include a single attorney or other professional with the training and knowledge necessary to understand whether due process hearing decisions demonstrate that hearing officers possess knowledge of, and the ability to understand, the provisions of the IDEA, Federal and State regulations pertaining to the IDEA, and legal interpretations of the IDEA by Federal and State courts; the knowledge and ability to conduct hearings in accordance with appropriate, standard legal practice; or the knowledge and ability to render and write decisions in accordance with appropriate, standard legal practice.

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

221. McIntyre also testified that MDE does not currently have adequate staffing of hearing officers handling special education due process complaints, and that MDE had not been providing sufficient oversight of its hearing officers to realize that staffing had been inadequate for years until June 2024:

Q: Okay. And you said that there were five ALJs that are able to do special education cases; is that correct?

A: I believe there are.

Q: Okay. And how does MDE determine whether the ALJs are able to do special education cases?

A: LARA³³ does.

Q: LARA does. Okay. Do you think that five ALJs is an adequate number of ALJs for special education cases?

A: So our ALJs are not assigned only to special education. And that is a LARA process that we...we have talked about...with LARA.

Q: Okay. So are you saying that five is or is not an adequate number?

A: It is not an adequate number.

Q: Okay. And it's not adequate because they're also doing other cases too; is that what --

A: Correct.

Q: I'm understanding you saying? Okay. Do you think it would be adequate if they were only doing special education cases?

A: That's what we have asked for, at least some of them need to do just special education cases.³⁴

Q: Okay. How long have five judges been assigned for special education cases?

A: I think probably for at least three years. During the pandemic, we maybe had three. And then coming out of the pandemic, we ordered two more. We added.

Q: Okay. Prior to the pandemic, how many were there?

A: I think there were four.

Q: Okay. How long have you been under the impression that five was not an adequate number of ALJs?

A: Well, we just talked about this back in June with, I guess, deepening our understanding that the ALJs are not just covering special education. Like I said, all of that is handled by LARA, so that's ...

Q: And how did you learn that?

A: Through meeting with them and asking questions.

Q: Okay. And what prompted all those questions?

A: Our training and looking at the data.

Q: Okay. And which data specifically prompted that?

A: The motions that were extending, extending, extending, because that is an acceptable or an allowable -- I don't know the right word to use -- under other different types of procedures but not necessarily under IDEA.

Q: So...were you out of compliance with MOU³⁵ or was LARA out of compliance with MOU if they were not providing an adequate number of ALJs?

A: I don't think that it was that they weren't providing it. I think they thought that they were providing it and we thought that they were providing it, but we understand things differently now, and we have asked for them to provide additional ALJs –

Q: Okay.

A: -- and they have agreed to that.

Q: At what point did you determine that it was inadequate?

A: I think in our conversations with them back in June.

Q: June. So June of 2023?

A: '4.

Q: This past June? Oh, we already had June. Sorry. This past June. Okay. And what caused that change in understanding?

A: Our conversation with them.... [T]hey shared how their ALJs are assigned, and we thought that all five of them were dedicated specifically to special education. And understanding that they aren't and looking at the volume of due process hearings that we have, we -- we have asked for additional ALJs and for them to be dedicated to special education.³⁶

ANSWER: The ISD lacks knowledge upon which to form a belief and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs.

222. McIntyre testified that she was not aware that ISDs were seeking dismissal of DPCs against themselves on the false premise that they are not LEAs:

Q: Are you aware that ISDs are filing motions to dismiss based on the fact that they are not responsible for ensuring FAPE for students in due process hearings?

A: No.

Q: Regarding the due process system, previously you had said that you were not aware that ISDs were filing motions to dismiss in due process proceedings alleging that they weren't responsible for ensuring IDEA compliance. Do you remember talking about that earlier?

A: Yes.

Q: Okay. So for the purposes of this questioning, I'm going to offer that they are doing that. Does that surprise you that they would file motions dismissing that they are not responsible for ensuring IDEA is implemented?

A: Yeah, I guess it surprises me but doesn't surprise me. It surprises me it's happening. It doesn't surprise me that they are pushing back, and that...would be more probably their attorney's...defense.³⁸

ANSWER: The ISD denies that its reasons for seeking dismissal, and the ALJ's conclusions of law, "were based on a false premise". In further answer, the ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

223. McIntyre testified that Michigan's ISD special education directors are aware of their direct responsibility to ensure that students in their local school districts receive a FAPE, because MDE has been training them on that obligation "ad nauseam" since 2019; and that Kent ISD is not only aware of its responsibility but has a system to provide such oversight of local school districts and has sanctioned local school districts within its jurisdiction for failing to provide a FAPE to students:

Q: Still on page 36 [of State General Supervision Responsibilities Under Parts B and C of the IDEA].³⁹ The last paragraph says: An SEA may take over the direct provision of special ed and related services in certain circumstances. One of the circumstances is that if the LEA is unable to establish and maintain programs of FAPE, meeting Part B requirements, then the SEA must use payments that would otherwise have been available to the district. Has MDE ever done this with any school district?

A: To my knowledge, no, but ISD has.

Q: How has the ISD done that?

A: And they have done that with our support.

Q: Okay. So which ISD are you speaking to?

A: Because the state education agency flows money out to the ISDs. So for the purposes of the -- the uniform grant guidance, that is the LEA is the ISD. They are the subrecipients of the grant.

Q: Okay. So...what the ISD does from there with their IDEA dollars, every ISD is different in how they do that, but, yes, they have -- there are ISDs who are withholding dollars and hiring people and operating programs.

Q: Do you know which ISDs have done that?

A: I know that Kent ISD has done it in the past, because I was a part of that.

Q: [Y]ou said that the ISDs are more and more looking at their districts. Why is this happening more and more?

A: Because the special education directors are understanding they do have a general supervision responsibility. It's -- in some cases, it's do they have the support of their superintendent and understanding. And then in other cases, they've -- they have taken the lead and demonstrated to their superintendent where that responsibility is and they've created a system.... There were a number of people in the room that said because I asked, how many of you actually have a developed system, and I was surprised. Because I knew about Kent, but I was surprised at the number in the room that raised their hand.

Q: And what do you think is the reason for this new understanding or finally coming to an understanding of the responsibilities they have?

A: Because we talk about it at every single director meeting and any at MAASE⁴¹ Summer Institute. We received feedback last year that they are sick of hearing about general supervision and want to know when we're just going to make it a breakout instead of a keynote and -- but that's the work of our office. So...they get it.

Q: Okay. And when did you start talking about this to the point where they were getting sick of it?

A: Ad nauseam.

Q: Yeah.

A: Well, I mean, since 2019, since I've been on board.

Q: Okay. And...why did this shift occur, this, you know, talking campaign about the ISDs' responsibility occurring?

A: I think it really -- listening to what Teri [Rink]⁴² has said, and she shares out with everybody, that this really started with an understanding with U.S. Department of Ed[ucation] and John Andrejack ⁴³ talking fiscally; and understanding that in Michigan, our ISDs are the LEAs. That's...who the subrecipients are, but we were treating school districts as subrecipients, but they weren't our subrecipients, so -- they were the ISDs' subrecipients. Actually, there's no -- there is no subrecipient to a subrecipient, so that was a misstatement, but, yeah, they were under the purview of the ISDs.

Q: Okay.

A: And so that whole thing, that -- that was chaos for like the first two years of trying to message that out. And so -- but I think more and more we'd just done it so much that more and more people are hearing it and accepting it, and they're just finally moving forward with their work.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court. In further answer, the ISD denies that an employee's deposition testimony is binding on the ISD or the Court in this matter.

COUNT I

Violations of the Individuals with Disabilities in Education Act, 20 U.S.C. § 1400 et. seq. and implementing federal regulations
(Defendants KPS and Kent ISD)

224. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the allegations contained in the previous paragraphs as if fully restated herein.

ANSWER: The ISD incorporates by references its Answers to the Paragraphs 1 – 224 as if fully restated herein.

225. In a December 7, 2023 order, the ALJ identified the following issues for the due process hearing:

- a. Whether Respondent failed to allow Petitioner to meaningfully participate in the IEP development process and educational decision making for Student for the 2022-2023 and 2023-2024 school years.
- b. Whether the IEPs for Student for the 2022-2023 and 2023-2024 school years were reasonably calculated to enable Student to make appropriate progress considering Student's diagnoses, educational needs, and other relevant circumstances.
- c. Whether Respondent failed to take steps to ensure Student had a FAPE for the 2022-2023 and 2023-2024 school years.
- d. Whether Respondent failed to provide Student a FAPE for the 2023-2024 school year when it denied Student a placement at Respondent's Pine Grove Learning Center.
- e. Whether compensatory education or services should be awarded and if so, of what type and/or amount?
- f. What other remedies are appropriate in the event Respondent is found to have committed FAPE violations?

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

226. The February 7, 2024 order contained errors of law due to the ALJ's failure to properly interpret the IDEA and relevant caselaw. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks review of the administrative decision as to all issues. Reversal is warranted under the "modified de novo" standard and based upon a preponderance of the evidence in the record.

ANSWER: Denied as to "errors of law" in the February 7, 2024, ALJ decision.

Admitted Plaintiffs seek review of that decision. Denied that reversal of that decision is warranted for the reason that the allegation in the third sentence constitutes conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court..

227. The May 15, 2024 order disregarded much of the ample evidence in the record demonstrating KPS's denial of a FAPE to G.G., reached several erroneous conclusions of fact and law, and gave undue deference to KPS's witnesses. The ALJ also committed errors of law by failing to properly interpret the IDEA. As a result, the remedy awarded by the ALJ for the limited issues on which she did find in favor of Plaintiff was insufficient and not reasonably calculated to make G.G. whole. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks review of the administrative decision as to all issues presented on which she was not the prevailing party. Reversal is warranted under the "modified de novo" standard and based upon a preponderance of the evidence in the record.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

228. Kent ISD was wrongly dismissed as a respondent based on its own legally flawed and likely disingenuous argument that it did not have responsibility to provide FAPE to G.G. and the Hearing Officer's incorrect understanding and application of the IDEA, Michigan law, and MDE guidance.

ANSWER: Denied for the reason that the allegations constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

229. Further, Kent ISD was wrongly dismissed based on the erroneous finding that the Kent ISD Cooperative Agreement superseded the IDEA and MDE requirements that ISDs have supervisory and independent responsibilities to ensure provision of a FAPE, regardless of whether the subject student was enrolled in an ISD program.

ANSWER: Denied for the reason that the allegations constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court

230. The May 15, 2024 order also erroneously found that parents have no recourse against an ISD for IDEA violations, in violation of the clear text of the IDEA, case law, and MDE guidance.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

231. The May 15, 2024 order's finding that KPS did not violate the IDEA during the 2023-2024 school year is not supported by the preponderance of the evidence in the record.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

232. The May 15, 2024 order's finding that the appropriate remedy for KPS's failure to provide G.G. with a FAPE with respect to his assistive technology needs was 13 hours of compensatory education is not supported by the preponderance of the evidence in the record.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

233. The May 15, 2024 order's factual conclusions to the contrary were unsupported, ignored critical evidence in the record, and did not align with the requirements of the IDEA.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

ANSWER: The ISD neither admits nor denies the allegations contained therein for the reason that they constitute conclusions of law, rather than allegations of fact, and, therefore, leaves Plaintiffs to their proofs thereon with a final determination to be made by the Court.

250. By MDE's own admission through Rebecca McIntyre's deposition testimony, and as demonstrated by the February 7, 2024 order dismissing Kent ISD as a party in the due process proceeding, MDE failed to provide training and oversight to special education due process hearing officers regarding ISDs' supervisory responsibilities under the IDEA and ISDs' status as LEAs that are responsible for providing students with disabilities with FAPE.

255. Therefore, under the IDEA, MDE repeatedly failed in its monitoring and supervising obligations. 20 U.S.C. § 1412(a), 1416; 34 C.F.R. § 300.120, 149(a), 511, 600-602, 606-608.
